

Late

“It’s time to go,” said Mum as she walked to find James.

Mum shook her head as she saw him sitting on his bed watching T.V.

“You are not ready to go!” said Mum. “We will be late for the doctor.”

“My leg is feeling better. I don’t think I need to go anymore,” said James.

Mum folded her arms. “Go and get ready,” she said crossly.

James groaned. He put on his blue shirt and his matching shoes. He also took a book with him in case he had a long wait.
