

David's Birthday

It was David's birthday. He played some party games with his friends. He liked 'pin the tail on the donkey' the best. He always won.

After the games, David's mum brought out a chocolate cake with 6 candles on top. She cut it up and gave some to his friends.

"This party is so much fun!" said Max.

"The food is great!" said Pam.

David smiled.

After his friends had gone home, David went for a ride on his new red bike around the yard.

"Can I have a go?" asked Sally. But David wasn't going to let anyone ride it.

David's Birthday

It was David's birthday. He played some party games with his friends. He liked 'pin the tail on the donkey' the best. He always won.

After the games, David's mum brought out a chocolate cake with 6 candles on top. She cut it up and gave some to his friends.

"This party is so much fun!" said Max.

"The food is great!" said Pam.

David smiled.

After his friends had gone home, David went for a ride on his new red bike around the yard.

"Can I have a go?" asked Sally. But David wasn't going to let anyone ride it.

David's Birthday: Questions

1. How old is David?

2. What party game did David like best?

3. What cake did David have?

David's Birthday: Questions

4. Who is Sally?

5. What present did David get for his birthday?

6. Why didn't David let Sally have a ride?

David's Birthday: Answers

1. How old is David?

Six.

2. What party game did David like best?

David liked 'pin the tail on the donkey' best.

3. Why do you think he liked it best?

Because he always won.

4. What cake did David have?

A chocolate cake.

5. Who is Sally?

David's sister (or relative).

6. What present did David get for his birthday?

A new bike.

7. Why didn't he let Sally have a ride?

Answers may vary. It was his present. He didn't want anyone to break it.

David's Birthday: Activities

Literacy

- Was it right of David not letting anyone ride his bike? What's your opinion? What would you have done?
- Make a list of all of the party games you can think of. Which one are you best at? Why?
- Think of something you would really like your parents to get you. Write a letter to convince them.
- Write a story about a game of 'pass the parcel' where the winner gets a big surprise than they could have imagined!

Numeracy

- David loves patterns. Design a cake for David, making sure to use different patterns with the topping.
- In what month were you born? Ask your friends. Record their answers with tally marks. Which month has the most birthdays? Turn your table into a graph!

Art and Design

- Create a new party game. Write and draw!
- How do you like to get around? Bike? Scooter? Skates? Draw a picture to match.

David's Birthday: Colouring Page

